Betty you raised your family taught them the love of God. A praying mother and grandmother. A faithful and dedicated wife. You stood by your family always. “ Betty was an awesome cook. Yet when I think of Betty the image of her dancing and shouting in the spirit always comes to mind. There is one image I always recall. The church we went to had wood heat from a pot belly stove. Betty started shouting and dancing in the spirit and she ended up backing up to that red hot stove and sitting on it. Yes she sat on it. Did not phase her or burn her at all. As a kid I was so intrigued as to why she was not hurt. I learned that night that if your under the spirit of the Holy Ghost no harm will come to you. So I say Betty go shout the streets of gold!

“ Betty was a good cook. She loved to sew and make things. She loved going to garage sales and being with her sisters. She could make the best-fried pies. But more then anything she loved her family. She loved Jim, David, and Harold they were her world. She loved her Grandchildren and Great Grandchildren and enjoy having them stay with her. Her greatest! Love was for the savior Jesus Christ. Who she loved and prayed to many times. Her love and dedication for the savior will take her home to be with him in his heavenly home.
