

James Scott Hendrix Sr.

August 29, 1935 - January 18, 2019

James Scott Hendrix, Sr., was born August 29, 1935 in New York to Wilber and Anna Hendrix and moved to Houston, Texas in 1980, then to Springdale in 1998.

He served honorably in the United States Air Force. He owned Bunches a' Book in Springdale and volunteered at the Second Chance Thrift Store in Springdale.

Survivors include his children, Jim, Jr. of New Caney, Texas, Donna McHugh Copiague of Long Island, New York, Scott of Ft. Myers, Florida, and their spouses, his grandchildren, many friends and sister in law, Tina Mills.

No services are planned.

Comments

“ Jim. I've been thinking about you lately, and I'm so, so sorry I didn't act upon it. I miss you and I'll never forgive myself for not staying in touch. You will always be a huge part of my life and my daughter's lives. We all love you and we will always miss you.

Mandi Leonard - January 25, 2019 at 08:02 PM

“ He was my best friend for many many years. There are very few people on this earth That u can trust he was one. You will be missed.
Christa

christa - January 24, 2019 at 01:34 PM

“ He is at peace now. I will always remember how he appreciated the simple things in life.

Donna McHugh - January 23, 2019 at 08:50 PM

“ Donna McHugh lit a candle in memory of James Scott Hendrix Sr.

Donna McHugh - January 23, 2019 at 08:39 PM

“ Now My dad will know what the color blue looks like since he was color blind.

Donna McHugh - January 23, 2019 at 08:40 PM

“ I am so saddened to hear of Jim's death. He was such a wonderful man! During the time he owned Bunches A Books I was his accountant, and his love of life, caring for others touched me very much. My heartfelt condolences to his family.

Susan Herwaldt - January 22, 2019 at 11:35 AM