“ June, was such a wonderful person who I had the privilege of knowing through our work together at VHSO. She was my nursing manager. She took such good care of her employees and would do anything to help staff and Veterans out. She will be missed dearly.

“ I only know June through stories shared by my daughter, Jenn. June made Jenn feel like a real daughter, and the two bonded immediately upon meeting. Jenn was excited to have June as the Matron of Honor at her and J.R.'s wedding. Jenn also looked forward to making June a grandma again. I live many states away so it brought me comfort to know my child was in such great care. My sadness is quite different in that I will never get to meet or know the lady who brought sunshine to many. My heart goes out Dick whose world I know too well. I also think of LaDonna, as losing a child is not the order we think life should happen. Thomas, J.R., Stephanie, Jenn, and the grandchildren have to now turn their world back around as best as they can. I send sincere condolences to all of the family as they journey the new normal sharing June's big heart and passions with stories that keep her memory alive.

“ June befriended me in 2014 when I was a new manager at the VA on the medical/surgical floor. She was the queen of spreadsheets. She took me under her wing and gave me a safe place to talk. I always called her the Cyndi Lauper of nurses and she would always laugh. She made painting trees sound fun. She stood up for the underdog. She smiled with her whole face, laughed with her whole body and loved with her whole heart. They say you can't have light without darkness. June's light was a bright light in a room full of darkness. I'm going to miss her so much. My heartfelt condolences to her family.

“ June and I met when We both started our new careers together on the 2A/2B Wards of the VA. I soon learned She was a soft, kind- hearted person that was always smiling and never judged others. She never minded being ask for any kind of help by others and always said, "Come on" with that big smile of hers across her sweet face. June loved being a Nurse, was an Artist and loved hanging out on the waters of Texas. She shared her stories with all of us fortunate enough to know her. Most of all, I will remember the love and sparkle in June's eyes when She talked about her beloved Family. I know June has her angel wings now. Prayers to all her Family.

“ June and I knew each other when the boys were small. We reconnected again while working at the VA. She embraced life, the good and the bad of it. She was a joy and a bright light in the world. Now she is shining down on all of us with her angel's wings. Recently she helped me illustrate a story that my mother wrote several years ago. We had a lot of fun working on that. We all will miss her. She touched so many people. My heart goes out to all of you. I wish you all peace, comfort and love.

“ June was a go-getter and a "get 'er done-r". She and I traveled to Coralville, Iowa together, to attend The Nursing Research Conference. She was pursuing her Master's in Nursing at the time, working on projects to improve care for our Veterans, and was learning to embroider to make a quilt top. She knew a great Amish store, the first exit just across the state line in Iowa, that made a great pit stop. She had all those accomplishments, but she was proudest of her husband, Dick and her family.

“ June’s beautiful smile will remain with me. A loyal friend who embraced me when I first moved to Arkansas and helped me negotiate the VA maze. June had the ability to capture your goals and support them. She was a cheerleader for my doctoral work and showed up at my tea parties with a cool hat! I joked that she was my “coke dealer” because she saved her MANY Diet Coke caps that had codes so that I could file for free sodas! She shared her artwork but she was most proud of her family that always brought to her face that broad smile that lit up a room. She quietly touched so many lives and my life is richer for having known her.

“ Sending prayers to Junes family and Gods blessings in the days to come. While we are still in disbelief that she has passed, we cannot help but picture her infectious smile. She had a wonderful kind spirit and was a loyal friend. Her memory will live on in our hearts forever, as will the healing touch as a nurse for the hundreds of people she touched in her nursing career. With great sadness, will bid you farewell ...until we meet again dear lady.

“ I looked forward to attending classes at the U of A , and studying together at her house with Dick and Thomas hanging out with us. Driving down to take our board exam together and knowing we failed that test!- both of us passed. Then she came to work at the VA with me and it was one of the greatest pleasures to be able to work together on projects. I will miss her beautiful smile and free spirit. I hope we will all remember her kindness and great attitude. Love and prayers to all of her family.

“ I am shocked and saddened to here of the passing of June (or as I know her in the Pokemon world as Jes and Bliss). She became a big part of my poke family in NWA. Upon meeting Jes, I remember thinking how easygoing and kind-hearted she was. I also loved the beautiful farm scene pictures she drew and shared with our group too. I can't believe she is gone, it breaks my heart. We were still playing Pokémon together while she was in the hospital. I remember asking how she was doing when I would see her online and was hopeful she would recover soon. She seemed to keep a pretty positive attitude and cool head throughout her whole ordeal. My heartaches for everyone that knew her. She will be missed. <3.
