“ Hi,

I had the privilege of being Suzi's roommate for the better part of four years. We didn't know each other when she moved in, but right away I knew I had made the right choice. She was an amazing person, and a good friend. She took care of my dog like it was hers when i was away, including coming home on her lunch break to make sure Hunter had a potty break and a snack. Her love of animals, and sunshine will be something I will always remember. I also remember she would drive just to drive, go somewhere just to go. How many miles did she get out of that crappy Honda Prelude of hers?? Her love of muscle cars, and music is also something that will stick with me. She is the reason I listen to Tool.

She was a great human being, and I'm honored to have known her.
