In Loving Memory

Of

“Annette Faltine Dawson”

July 28, 1965 – November 8, 2015

On July 28, 1965, Annette Faltine Dawson was born to Joseph and Anna Marie Faltine in Fort Rucker, Alabama.

On Sunday, November 8, 2015, our sweet and loving Annette passed away in her home in Springdale, Arkansas at the age of 50.

Annette was a homemaker and a very devoted mother and grandmother who enjoyed painting, cross stitching, meeting new people and playing online games.

She was a free spirited lady whom had a heart of gold and the strength of at least twenty men. She never let anything get her down, not even her health. She was the glue to so many people and their lives. She never once complained about being a single mom and living on her own. She brought a smile to every person around her. When she walked into a room, everyone knew Annette had arrived.

She was preceded in death by her father Joseph Faltine.

Annette leaves behind her parents, Carey and Anna Marie Welch of Rogers, Arkansas; one daughter, Tabitha Barnette of Springdale; two sons, Tyler Higgins, of Springdale, Arkansas and Ryan Bleacher of Gastonia, North Carolina; she also leaves behind a granddaughter, Sydney Barnette and a grandson, Lucas Bleacher. She left behind siblings which consists of one brother, Joseph Faltine and his wife, Lisa Faltine of Lancaster, Pennsylvania; two sisters, Teresa Marie Jones and husband Todd Jones of Rogers, Arkansas and her sister Jennifer Faltine of Rogers, Arkansas. She also leaves behind three nieces, Ashley and Angie Jones and Emma Faltine.

“A visitation will be held at Sisco Funeral Chapel on Friday, November 13, 2015 from 12-2pm for anyone who would like to come pay their respects to Annette and her family.”

May she rest in peace....

Below is a poem from one of her life-long friends, which she wanted to share with everyone.

Left So Suddenly

Sunday morning, 11/08/2015, we were all awakened to the sad news
That you were suddenly gone
As we gather together in comfort from one another
I here Annette say, I know I am suddenly gone
Please don't cry for me for I don't want to see tears
Only strong shoulders for those in need
Be strong and find your smiles
For you will see me again
I know you miss me
But just know, in heaven I will be

Again I am sorry I left so suddenly
Without a goodbye
But I did not leave you completely
I am in a better place
Please my family and friends
Do not keep your sad faces
Do not let your tears fall
I know I left you suddenly
But I am begging you be strong
I left before we were ready to see me go
Do me a favor, live every moment of life
As if it were your last
Please do not forget the memories we made
Cherish life and love those near and far as I watch you from above
I am sorry I left so suddenly
I may not be there in person
But my Father in Heaven
Thought it was time I come home to get my wings
So I am now your personal angel from up above
I left so suddenly but please do not say good bye
As I spread my wings and fly
Remember I was made your guardian angel
As you plan my resting place
Please do not cry for me today
For I'm ok here in the land of no pain
Soaring through the sky
With the clearest lungs I could ever want
So even though I left so suddenly
I will see you all again
Forever I send my love to you all

Sleep with my kisses upon your cheeks
And always know I am not gone
I'm in heaven waiting for you all to come home to me...
With love, LaDena Wilson, 11/2015
