“ *My Dear Dr. Jennifer B, I have only today learned of your loss. You are so very much in my thoughts and prayers and in some way I hope you can know how much I care. You have been such a positive upbeat person for me as your patient. I guess I just have taken you for granted for so many years! If there is anything at all I can do to help you now, PLEASE let me know. I am sending you love and hugs,

“ Jennifer, I am so sorry for your loss. I was crestfallen...brokenhearted when I heard about Clint's passing. You are one of the strongest people I know. Yet I can only imagine how heavy your heart must be right now. My family and I will keep you and yours in our hearts and prayers. Sincerely, Ron

“ Dr Bingham, I have only met you a few times, I am Clint's cousin. I cannot imagine how you must feel and what you are going through, having your life partner and children's father suddenly being taken away. My heart and prayers go out to you. I know Clint was so proud of you and loved you and the children dearly. Even though Clint is not here, remember all the good times you had together. Keep them close in your heart and try to be thankful for the time you did have together, and may that bring some warmth to your heart. His outgoing and generous spirit will live on in the beautiful children you have together, making them that much more special. Please give them an extra hug, just a little tighter, for Clint, from me.

“ Uncle Don & Aunt Caroline, There are no words for the tragic loss of the wonderful son you raised. I have such fond memories of Clint. The trip to the San Diego zoo- the polar bear blowing us kisses, playing with him and his brothers at your awesome house in CA, and singing the infamous ?Sneaky Snake? song. I only regret I did not know him more than I did as we grew up. May you cherish all of the marvelous memories of Clint, and let them console your broken heart. Look for that extra twinkle in his children?s eyes and see that he lives on in them. Our hearts and prayers go out to you both, with all our love, from my family to yours.
