“Little coop” I didn’t get to see you much when you were little but I always loved how much you were full of smiles and lots of energy! You were sweet and although I haven’t got to you in many years, when I found out you passed I couldn’t help but cry in shock of all people your sweet soul is no longer here but you have made your way to be at peace. We’ve made not be of blood. But no letter the time known or the distance between. And no longer connected as family. You will forever be remembered as the little spontaneous sweet and kind little guy I once knew and enjoyed being able to see the few moments I did. I have always thought fond of your momma daddy and brothers to carry your Mmmmk the little times with me forever with the king ahi memories I will cherish to hold deep in my heart: I am so sorry for the loss of your short life that deserved much more needed years in this earth. But for now rip and fly high little angel. Until the day comes ❤️ xo, forever no matter what, cousin Megan. ❤️

“ I’ve known Cooper since Elementary school. We go back and the way to Walker Elementary. We were great friends! Towards the end unfortunately we haven’t talked as much as we used to but he was still a good friend of mine. It’s a shame that this had to happen, however this just shows that we must live life to its fullest because tomorrow is not guaranteed.

Cooper, I’ll see you in the next life, buddy!
