“ I met Chris when I was about 16. She was definitely one of a kind. One in a million! She always had that laugh man that would make you laugh and just made everyone in the room feel loved. I didn't get a lot of love as a kid and Chris was like a mom to me. She showed me love taught me how to cook and so much more. I know about beans and cornbread because of her I know the best snacks at the lake because of her I know about arrowheads because of her. She made my life better just by knowing her and I'm so sad she is gone. I hope heaven is Neato Frito mamaw 🥰 I will cherish our memories always. I love you forever no matter what!

Her sister Connie and my sister Rosie became friends. Connie passed first and I texted and comfronted Crystal. When I lost Rosie not too long after Connie, Crystal was texting me and comforting me. I'm really ginna miss her love and spirit. Rest In Peace my friend until we meet again. 💕💕💕
