“ I am truly at a loss for words, and my heart breaks today as the Lord rejoices in receiving his beautiful daughter. Dan, Leslie, Jerry and the babies.....I love you all so much, and it was one of the greatest pleasures of my life to have known Debbie. There is a hole that will never be filled, and her grace, beauty, strength, faith, dedication and genuine love for her family, students, friends and wayward tag-alongs like me will never be forgotten or taken for granted. May God bless you and keep you....

“ Dan, I recently learned of the sudden and tragic death of your wife, Debbie. I realize there are no words that can lessen your pain, but I am terribly sorry for your loss. Obviously there are a number of friends who held her in high regard and thought she was a wonderful person. You and your family are in my prayers. From: Libby Harrod

“ Dan and Leslie, So very sorry for your tremendous loss. I hold near and dear to me all the memories of Jewel and Debbie. What a precious family. So much we have all shared together. And oh, that beautiful contagious smile. "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort." 2Cor. 1:3. May you be comforted at this time and always. May He raise you up in His arms holding you tight. Praying for strength, healing, and peace. We love you.

“ Dan and Leslie, I only found out today of Debbie's passing. I taught with her at Tyson Elementary and then at J O Kelly. She was always so sweet and so proud of her family. God bless your family and I pray that he carries you through this very sad time in your lives. I'll never forget her beautiful smile.

“ Dan, though we've never met, Debbie was a friend and classmate at Jacksonville High School. I am so sorry for your loss. It's my hope and prayer that your pain and sense of loss can soon be replaced by wonderful memories. Please extend our condolences to the rest of the families at a time of immeasurable loss.

“ Dan,
I graduated Jacksonville High School with Debbie, in 1970. I don't remember a cross word or a bad thing she ever said about any one. She was so kind, and will be missed. My prayers are with you and your family.
