“ Nanny an I where best of friends, she made me who I am today. She loved my boys just as she did me. You couldn't have ask for a better nanny. I drove her around from the age of 10 until I was 16 and could drive myself. We were always hitting up Dollar General, golly the $ we spent there on the weekends. I'll forever miss her but I know she's with me now. RIP nanny we love you

“ Mom never whipped us as kids..
When I was a Senior in high school I weighed over 200lbs & was pretty solid...
Mom was always small & most of the time would just get onto us if she was mad ..
I told her one mornin I wasn't going to school & argued with her..
When she got mad she grabbed a fly swatter from the Bar and grabbed my arm & started whipping me..
I couldn't help it I started laughing...
Oh boy that did it, she whipped me until the fly swatter came apart & was mangled.
Buddy, I ran out the back door laughing, but I went to school all day ..
I got to thinking how mad she was, and as soon as I got out of school I headed straight home & Sat in the yard until Dad got home, so I could tell him what happened before Mom could....
Dad was cool about things if he heard it from us before anyone else..
It worked, dad laughed & told me to stay outside until he talked to Mom..
After bout 5mins dad stuck his head out & said Hoot, I bout didn't get it done this time, but I saved you again..
But you owe Mom a big apology & a hug..
When I got in the house Mom was laughing too ..
But she did tell me next time she would grab a club... Lol
I never pushed that far again.. lol
Just a couple weeks ago she looked at me & said, don't make me get the fly swatter...
And that has been something we have laughed about I guess my whole life.
