“ I am still shocked and sadden by the news of Donnie passing. It is hard to believe that his family, friends and the community will no longer have Donnie with us. When I think of Donnie, I think of his beautiful smile and honest eyes. When Donnie spoke with you, you were the center of attention. You felt his kindness and gentleness. He served God everyday by serving others. He was always there for Mom and Dad. Dad planned his own funeral, because that was Bruce, and he only wanted Donnie to give the eulogy. And what a beautiful job he did. Both Donnie and Carol Lynn were there for Mom after Dad passed and helped her through a hard time. I appreciated all of their visits to see Mom. Donnie had such zest for life and it was hard to picture he was the age he was. His spirit will be with us all and hopefully we can take that spirit and continue to spread his love. Carol Lynn, Derek and Pam, my prayers are with you. Donnie is hugging Ryan and watching over his family.

“ I am sorry for your loss. Don was a great man. He was the Bulldog that everyone at Springdale High School wanted to emulate. He did the same at the University of Arkansas. I remember Don and Pam being raised to be horse people from an early age. I remember Lee’s store. I remember Christmas days from long ago at Mack and Alice’s house. I remember Don and Carol Lynn’s wedding. Don was always kind to my mother. Don was always kind to my father, and Don was the person my father trusted to do his eulogy, and he did a great job. He created a genuine “small-town culture” at Legacy Bank. It seems like saying that Don was a good man is an understatement, but being a truly good man is something to aspire to. I extend my sympathy to the family during this difficult time.

“ We look forward to the days ahead when our reflections of Donnie brings smiles to our faces instead of tears to our eyes. We enjoyed so many decades of trips, meals, parties, family joys. Our smiles will come when we reflect upon his outstanding contributions to our medical, civic, educational and communities of faith. We will smile when we think of his phenomenal relational with Carol Lynn, his amazing partner in life. We shared sorrows with love and courage, knowing God was always with us. “ Donnie was always ready with a smile and a helping hand. He took his friendships seriously, and believed with his heart and with his hands that giving back to his community in Springdale was a duty and an honor. He loved Carol Lynn deeply, and the two of them often spoke of the other as best friend. I have known them both since high school, and have always been inspired by their devotion to one another and their enduring delight in their family. Also by their courage in light of Ryan's passing so many years ago, and their active determination to make something constructive of it. To write of them both at Donnie's passing seems very natural, as they were one.- Jeanne Walker
