“ When Fred ran the restaurant at the old Holiday Inn of Rogers, he allowed my son free range on the property. A maintenance man stopped him, and when questioned, replied "I'll have you know that I am a close personal friend of Fred Phillips." Fred thought that was priceless. My memories of Fred will always be his friendship with my Daddy. They loved to fish together. RIP dearest friend.

“ So long Daddy. Never goodbye. I love you so much. Many people do not realize how much we went through together, but you were always my sunshine, my only sunshine. You gave so much for me. I'll never forget that. Until we meet again, fly with the angels and save me a seat at dinner. You'll probably be up there teaching cooking classes. I love you more than you'll ever have known. See you soon.
