“ hey grandpa, back again for another year. It's been 9 years without you and it still doesn't hurt any less.

i feel like life would be so different if you were here. there is so much you're missing out on but i know it has to be for the better. I know you're in a better place now and I just have to be happy for you. I still have that boyfriend, and he still reminds me of you each and every day. y'all would be best friends and I know that without a doubt. i talk about you so much that today was even a little hard on him, he wishes that he could've met you and known you the way that I did but he sadly doesn't get that chance. I'm about to finish my junior year of high school and I wish you could be here for all the milestones that I'm going to be hitting next year, and all the accomplishments I'm going to make. Senior year is a big one and it would be so much better if you were here too. I wish I could sit and talk to you about life, and everything that a grandpa should know about his granddaughter but i can't, and i still don't feel like this is the place to do that since you won't ever be able to read what i'm writing on here. i wish more than anything that i could get you back. i love you, and i'll always be your little squirrel.

“ hey grandpa, it's been 8 years now. i've done this for the past 2 year so might as well do it again.

this day is always so rough, and i always miss you more than usual on this day, but this year it's been especially difficult. i really truly wish you were here. there's a million things i could tell you, and would love for you to know, but this just isn't the place. i have a boyfriend now, he reminds me more and more of you every single day. nonna sees it too. she likes to tell me that most girls pick a guy that's like their dad, but i picked one that's like you. i think you would really like him, he's pretty cool. he helped me through today and it was pretty nice but it didn't make it hurt any less. i tried really hard to keep my cool today but i don't find that necessary anymore, it didn't make the pain stop. i would do anything to get you back grandpa. i miss you so much. i love you, and i'll always be your little squirrel.

“ hey grandpa, it's been 7 years. i did this last year so i thought i might as well do it this year too.

i really miss you. i feel as if things would be a lot better if you were here. i'm living with nonna full time now, i really wish i could spend that much time with you too. i feel like there's so much your missing out on but there's nothing i can do about it. a couple years back, nonna gave me one of your sweatshirts. i don't think she remembers that it's yours, but i distinctly remember her telling me that it was yours. so now, whenever i miss you, or even when i'm just sad. i'll wear it. it never fails to remind me of you. actually, a lot of things remind me of you. not a day goes by that i don't think about you.

“ It's been 6 years now.. I'm not sure now anyone else is handling it but I know I'm not handling it too well. I'm not sure if anyone is ever going to see this so I'm going to use this to kinda say some things hey grandpa.. it's been 6 years, I really miss you. its hard to believe that it's been 6 years already. not a day goes by where I don't think about you. you were one of my best friends, whether you knew it or not. I'm sorry if I didn't show that enough. I miss you so much. if you were here right now I would have so much to tell you. there's so much that I could catch you up on but I don't think nows the right time.. I love you, and I'll always be your little squirrel.
