“ I was only 9 when Neva first entered my life. She was my sister-in-law and I felt that I had finally been given a sister in life. She was loving and caring and made me feel as though she had always known me. I was heartbroken when we had to part- I was only 15. My parents and I knew we had to go on with a different journey without her but her stamp was on our hearts. She was a very special lady for one young girl at a time when I needed exactly what she shared. I will never forget her kindness and understanding. She has joined her heavenly family and is home.

I wish God's grace and peace to all her family as you mourn her loss.
