“ So many, many memories of Irene -- I don't know where to start. I married her second son (Thurman) in September 1964 and knew her before then. I can't think of her without remembering all the fun and laughter we shared. She was from a large family (12 siblings) and married Ben on 4/20/40. They were married almost 56 years. God gave Irene 21 more years as a widow -- what a long and blessed life she had!

Irene was a blessing to all her friends and family. She really never met a stranger as she loved people and had an outgoing personality. She loved to laugh and enjoyed playing all types of games whether it was with other adults, the grandkids (all adults now), or the great-grandkids (most aren't little any more). She was an excellent seamstress and made wedding dresses, formals, tailored suits, draperies, uniforms, and anything else her customers wanted. She taught children's Bible classes for years and visited the sick and prepared food for others. She truly let her Christian light shine.

These brief memories don't do her justice, but suffice it to say, Irene lived her life well. She is in a much better place with her mind restored and the confusion gone. I loved to worship with her and sing songs about heaven. I'll treasure the special memories for a long, long time.

p.s. It's still hard to believe that Thurman died almost 7 years before his mom did. He died at age 67 and she lived to be 97.

“ Hi guys. I know yal are devastated. I was blown away when Brenda called me. Irene was the last of the McLain children. She was the head of the family. We all love her so very much but I had a special place in my heart for her from things we'd been thru. I love you guys. I wish I could make the trip home to be with you. Please know that my heart is with you and my prayers are constant. Now your mom and my mom will be lying next to each other for all eternity. Love you much --- Linda and all my family

“ Myron, Pam , Andy & Family,

We are deeply sorrowed at the passing of Ms Irene, She was a special lady to us and I know a special Mom and Grandmother to you guys. We have attended many Sunday services with both Ben and your Mom she was always upbeat and smiling with nothing but good to say. Please accept our sympathy for your loss. We know where she is and that is where she wanted to be. Lord willing we shall see her and Ben again.
