“ I am so sorry to hear about Jason. I worked with his mother at the Clinic in Fayetteville. She was like a sister to me. She was pregnant with Jason when she first hired at FDC. Jason came to the clinic with her from time to time. I knew Debbie's parents and her Grandmother, who was a friend of my Uncle Ben. I remember him at Debbie's funeral trying to give me comfort. I wish I could do the same for you. Comfort will come in some form at some time when you have reached a path of grief that can bring you solace. My prayers will be with you as you proceed. "This too shall pass' the scriptures tell us, and from my past experiences I can tell you it will, but everyone goes through it at their own pace. Remember the good time! They will sustain you in the days to come. Try to stay in a positive place. I wish I knew him when he grew into manhood. Love from a friend of Debbie's, and know that the love that we shared, and the knowledge of him as a child is a blessing that I carry with me from day to day. May God keep you and protect you. My prayers I give you. Dorothea Meek Coleman.

“ Jason was a young misunderstood, gentle person who only wanted to be accepted when he became part of my family. Jason... if you only knew how much you were still loved...you would not have done it! I wish you had come to see me I would have told you how much you still are a part of my family memories and how much Jesus Loves You !! Jason will be missed, now rest by your Mom. Mrs. Kerr

I worked with Jason at Walmart #0144 in the Meat Dept. for years. We got to know each other pretty well, and he was always fun to be around, and had a great sense of humor. I've only recently learned of his passing, and just wanted to say how sorry I am for his family and close friends. He is missed. Rest in peace, friend.

May God comfort you during this time of grief , words can't express the loss or how much it hurts to have your love one gone from your presence. Jason brought me flowers 🌸 and took me to noodles Italian kitchen on our first date. I thought he was so handsome and sweet. We talked for hours after the date should have ended and we became inseparable after. We Married and later divorced but remained friendly, running into each other from time to time and checking in with each other here and there. Jason had a big heart and was so interesting. He loved ham radios and scanners, he loved nice clothes and cars. He loved taking road trips and exploring. He loved whiskey and dogs and he loved ELVIS. I remember him growing out his sideburns like Elvis, buying the Elvis shades when we toured graceland, and busting out the song “I did it my way” in the car on the ride home and many times after 😊. I can't even count how many times we watched Elvis Presley “aloha from hawaii” together! We had good times and bad but I'll always remember jason for the good Times. He had a great laugh and a little crooked smile that could brighten your day. Jason's life was short, but full of people and places that made him a blessing to others! Fly high Jason until we meet again one day 😊
