“ Was shocked and saddened to learn of Jeff’s passing. I worked with him at J.B. Hunt for 14 years. He was always a source of wisdom and wit. We were just talking a couple of weeks ago about an IT system that we helped implement a little over 10 years ago and all that entailed. That conversation definitely included some laughs and I’m thankful that we had it. Thank you for all that you did. You will be missed. Praying for you and your family.

“ I have special memories of Jeff---one as the son of friend JoAnna, and brother to Amanda and Samantha---friend to many including myself. In the early years of teaching at Shiloh, Jeff drove the bus for us when we went on field trips. He was so helpful and supportive in keeping the children in line on the bus and wherever we were going. I so appreciated his help!
Prayers for all of the family---

“ Jeff and I did Theatre together at the U of A, I also work for Jeff in the family pest control business. We always had a good time working together. He was the "gentle giant". We had some interesting times doing the pest control side of our friendship. One day we were under a house digging out a foundation when all of the sudden he started hollering and slapping at his leg. I startled, started looking for what new animal we had happened on this time. Just as quickly as he started, he stopped. Jeff looked at me and gave me that big trademark grin and said "Nevermind it was just my pager" We laughed for about ten minutes. After that day if something gave us a start or frustrations we would remark "Nevermind it was just the pager". I will miss that smile and the calm he always embodied. God speed my friend. “ Vicki, I am so sorry to hear this. We have continued to think of you and other First Baptist friends since we left NW Arkansas so long ago. I always loved Jeff's big bear hugs. You and Jeff were huge inspirations to Jim and me. My son Patrick loved seeing him at church. I remember that he thought that Jeff was John Jacobs, of the Power Team that would visit FB...That always made Jeff laugh. My thoughts and prayers are with you and the girls.

“ Dear Amanda, Kynzee and all of Jeff's family and friends, please accept my deepest condolences on the passing of Jeff. I had not seen Jeff in many years, although I kept up with him on Facebook. My fondest memories of Jeff were our days at Arkansas while studying music. Jeff had a great sense of humor, and would have me laughing as soon as he walked in the door! But he was more than that. He was also a wonderful Christian brother. As a young babe in Christ, Jeff was a great friend and encouragement to me. There were only a handful of people who I considered my closest and most trustworthy friends in college. Jeff was definitely one of them. While I am very saddened to hear of his passing, I have perfect assurance of where Jeff is right now, with his savior in glory! My prayers will be with you during this time of grief.

“ Gary and I will never forget all that Jeff and his family did and meant to us over the past 45 years. He was an awesome guy, loved the Lord with all his heart, was a GREAT ENCOURAGER to all that knew him. Precious man, precious family. I know Jeff is standing in the presence of the Savior and I am so glad for the legacy he left to all that knew him. He was a fun guy, loved life, and taught us all a lot of things through the years. We will miss him down here, but see him some day, and just think, he will be coming back with Jesus very soon! Love you Jeff, Vicki, Elizabeth and Kyneeze. Let's all share his legacy and may God raise up more JEFF MILLERS!

“ Jeff Miller is the reason I am an active Christian. Jeff is the reason that I am a pastor. In fact, if it hadn't been for him, I would never have gone back to church after having been terribly offended and hurt by a pastor in my hometown church in Okla. I headed off to the University of Arkansas to become a band director, vowing never to go to church again.

Jeff was a fellow freshman music student at the UofA, and our similar senses of humor drew us together. Soon, he was inviting me to go to church with him. After repeated refusals, Jeff just wouldn't give up. So, one day he said, "Robert Wagoner is going to be singing in our church this Sunday, and I'd really like form you to hear him." Well, I thought he was talking about Robert WAGNER, the actor, so, intrigued, I agreed to go.

"GREAT - I'll pick you up at your dorm at 10 Sunday! Then, you can eat lunch with it at my grandma's house!"

Jeff picked me up at 10 am that next Sunday morning and drove me the most circuitous route anyone has ever devised from Fayetteville to Springdale, and we arrived at the old downtown location of the church, and we went inside.

I sat in the back of the balcony, waiting to hear Robert WAGNER sing. After the offering, the Minister of Music, Robert WAGONER, stood up and began to sing a solo. I looked at Jeff and said, "You lied to me!", and he said, with his big full-faced grin, "No I didn't - that's Robert WAGONER right there, singing, just like I said!"

I said I was leaving, but Jeff informed me that he wouldn't take me back until after church and dinner, and, when I threatened to walk, he said I was 20 miles from Fayetteville, and there were no taxis in Springdale. So, there I was, STUCK in a place I vowed I would NEVER go into again - a church, and I was fit to be tied!

Well, after Robert WAGONER finished singing, CLIFF PALMER, the pastor, got up and began to teach the Bible, verse-by-verse, from the pulpit. I didn't pay much attention, still miffed at Jeff, who was sitting there, Bible in hand, taking notes with his pen in the margin of his Bible as Cliff taught.

After lunch at Mrs. Houston's, Jeff drove me back to the UofA. We didn't say much. I thanked him, got out of the vehicle, and went to my dorm room.

That evening, I began to think about what I had observed at the First Baptist Church of Springdale - the music aside, which was good, I realized that something had happened that I had NEVER seen happen in a church service, even though I had been attending Baptist churches all of my life: the Pastor TAUGHT THE BIBLE! Cliff Palmer really didn't "preach" or deliver a "sermon" - HE TAUGHT DIRECTLY FROM THE BIBLE, and I had NEVER actually LEARNED something from the Bible listening to a pastor before!

"It must have been an accident", I thought, so, I asked Jeff if Cliff taught the Bible like that normally. "Oh yeah," Jeff said, "he teaches verse-by-verse through a different book of the Bible in every service!"

That next Sunday, I drove myself to the First Baptist Church of Springdale to see for myself, and, true to Jeff's word, Cliff Palmer taught directly from the Bible that morning, that night, the following Wednesday night, and in his Pastor's Class during Sunday School!

I was hooked, and I stayed hooked for 10 years there. I met my future wife there. I met and grew to know and love hundreds of wonderful Christian people at First Baptist, Springdale, and found nary a one who was like that former pastor from my hometown church in Oklahoma who was full of himself. Instead, I found the biggest country church you could ever find filled with people who, instead of being filled with themselves, were filled with JESUS CHRIST, the Living Word, because their pastor, Cliff Palmer, TAUGHT them the Word of God!

All because a young Christian named Jeff Miller invited someone he barely knew to go to church with him, and wouldn't take "no" for an answer.

I thank the Lord, for putting Jeff Miller in my life.
