

Jesse Jones

August 22, 2012

Jesse Lindsey Jones died August 22, 2012 in Springdale, Arkansas. He was born August 16, 1918 in Vincent, Texas to Chester and Madge Ragan Jones. He was preceded in death by his wife Maurice Bledsoe Jones whom he was married for 71 years .

He was a Rancher for most of his life. He also wrote and published "Slim and Me" and "Cedar Canyon". He loved writing short stories and reading. He was a 32nd degree Mason. He was also on the Washington County Mounted patrol.

He is survived by two sons, Chester Jones of Illinois and Grady Jones of Fayetteville, Arkansas. Two daughters, Ann Skipper of Texas and Frances Harrison of Lowell, Arkansas. Ten Grandchildren and twelve Great Grandchildren.

A Private Memorial Service will be held at a later date. Contributions can be made to the Springdale Public Library.

Tribute Wall

“ Jesse Jones

January 21, 2023 at 02:29 PM

“ Was so sorry to read about the loss of your dad. On a happy note...he is reunited with your mom, which I'm sure they are both thrilled about. 71 years is a long time to be with someone and probably very hard then to be without. I will remember them both with fond (and some funny) memories, and will keep your family in my prayers for God's comfort during this time. Blessings, Lori

August 27, 2012 at 12:00 AM