“ I knew Laura when she was in Houston Texas. I was with her for 4 years. I find myself at a loss for words. If she had not left Houston to take care of her parents I'm pretty sure we would still be together. We would love to play tennis together. We would take Daisy and Oscar to the dog park. Her min pin Max is buried in my backyard. I loved Laura. I miss her.

“ To my beautiful mother, I didn't get to say goodbye but if I could've I'd say this... you were always in my corner, the light when times were dark, the smile when I needed a laugh, the strongest and bravest woman I knew, the comedian and quiet shoulder to many, the most beautiful soul inside and out. I would say " I wish I were more like you" I love you mom. God took you too soon but I know you aren't hurting anymore. I see you everywhere. You'll be in my heart until I die. I promise to make this right, to help others understand. I promise to be the woman you always encouraged me to be. God has the most beautiful angel by his side now. You've found the peace you so deserved. Together forever.
