“ I went to school with Pat in Saginaw, Michigan. We're planning a (belated) 50th high school reunion and I learned of Pat's death. What a loss! She was so smart, lively, and funny. We were friends during middle school and 9th grade when my family moved to Grand Rapids. I'm sad Pat and I won't be able to reconnect. She was a wonderfully honest and entertainment person; we shared some good times and lots of laughter. My condolences and love to her family.

“ When I first met her, her eyes lit up, she smiled very warmly, and simply said "You are so pretty" on another day she pinned me in convo and during that she said "I can swear to you Tia & promise you that my Gabe will treat you far better than anyman could and go to great lengths to make you happy" she also went on to tell me she had a feeling him and I would be happy together. I was nervous meeting his mom, and disbelieving in a way of what she said but knowing it was true.

Now I've been with her son Gabe(Robert) for 13 months and he is just as sweet, chilvarous as the day we met as friends. I've helped and continue through the grief. I wish I met him sooner so I could of known Patricia more. Cleaning the house I have run a crosses her own stories and writings and its some of the most beautifully written words I have read. I scoured the web hoping to find a book published by her. Her writing was art.

“ I worked with Pat on nights at Bentonville. I treasure the conversations and the lessons she taught about life and love for people. I hope she got to read the last Outlander book! Love you, Pat!

“ Going through life events, scared, depressed and unsure, Pat looked at me so gently and said, " you don't get it sweetie. Just make a decision. It will always be the right one" she was so right. I have carried those words and shared with many more. You will be missed sweet lady.

“ Pat was a beloved coworker for years. She brought us a special present one Christmas morning, a kitten! She put her in a box with a big bow on it & left it on our front porch. My kids were so excited! RIP Pat!
