“ I never get out and did not know that Peggy had passed away. I just found out tonight and it has been months.

I went to secretarial school with Peggy. I had a hard time with one subject that she understood, and she had a hard time with another subject that I understood. I was good at shorthand. I loved it, but filing was hard for me. She would say, "Donna, why can you not get this? It is is easy! You know your ABC's. I would say, "Well, Peggy, it is not just ABC's. It is not knowing when to list first names first. I never heard of Fanny Farmer. And why can you not understand shorthand, it is easy! So....she and I would work together and she would try to pound filing in my head and I would try to pound shorthand in hers.

I lost touch with Peggy over the years, but I never forgot her. Who could? She was such a loving person.

My heart goes out to Larry and his family for their loss.

“ Peggy was a good coworker at SSA, and my wife and I counted her as a friend.
