“ Dear Susan,

Even though I've only known you a short while, the story you told me about yours and Randy's long relationship came very close to my heart. I'm happy that you had those last few years together after such a long separation. May the love and support of family and friends help you through these sad and difficult times. My deepest condolences to you all.

May prayer and love sustain you. Olivia Sordo

We Pray for comfort during this difficult time for all the family but we know Heaven was rejoicing when Randy went on his final flight. Randy always had a smile and a hand shake so glad we got to cross paths with him such a great Man. Love & Prayers

Jackie - February 15, 2015 at 01:29 PM

I never met Randy but know his parents well. He came from good stock, the kind of man our country needs. We extend our love and continued prayer to support to Randy's family and especially his dear mother, whom my wife and I have learned to love and appreciate. The God of all grace will sustain Randy's family and give them His peace. You are in our prayers.

*we have so many memories of Randy. So thankful we got to know him and sit under his teaching on Wednesday night Bible study and Sunday morning in class. He had such an awesome knowledge of the Bible and loved to share with others. If no one else ever came by to shake your hand you could depend on Randy even days when I'm sure he didn't feel like it. He was an awesome example of a great man of faith.
