“ I became friends with Rita after our children married. She was a fascinating woman and loved people. She had a gift of making the young crowd feel important and valued which made them gravitate to her home. I see a lot of her in her precious daughter and her grandchildren. I will never forget the look she gave her daughter when she was expecting Chloe and announced that she was thinking about a water birth, or the look she gave me at a pageant of Chloe's. Priceless. We will miss her so much but we all know her suffering is over. Thank you, Rita, for sharing your family with ours. We will treasure them always.
