“ The Patterson family extends their love to Ron's wife Julie with the loss of our closest friend for almost 40 years. Ron's personality and character overflowed with kindness and genuine concern for the well-being of others. Treating people like one would want to be treated seems to be a lost art, but Ron perfected it by greeting you with a firm handshake, direct eye contact, and a one-in-a-million smile. Ron was a giver of love and expressed it with deepest sincerity. His word was gold and his principles were cast iron, often in defiance like a true Texan. Above all, Ron's charm and laughter left those who met him thanking God that he was put on this earth to lift our spirits. Ron found comfort through nature's beauty and he loved his birds. Their songs now sing his praises loud and proud. Thank you buddy for bringing us the gift of your life. Terry Patterson and family.
