THE DASH POEM

*I read of a woman who stood to speak
At the funeral of a friend
She referred to the dates on her tombstone
From the beginning to the end
She noted that first came her date of birth
And spoke the following date with tears,
But she said what mattered most of all
Was the dash between the years
For that dash represents all the time
That she spent alive on earth,
And now only those who loved her
Know what that little line is worth.
For it matters not how much we own;
The cars, the house, the cash,
What matters is how we live and love
And how we spend our dash.
So think about this long and hard,
Are there things you'd like to change?
For you never know how much time is left,
That can still be rearranged.
If we could just slow down enough
To consider what's true and real
And always try to understand
The way other people feel.
And be less quick to anger,
And show appreciation more
And love the people in our lives
Like we've never loved before.
If we treat each other with respect,
And more often wear a smile
Remembering that this special dash
Might only last a little while.
So, when your eulogy is being read
With your life's actions to rehash
Would you be proud of the things they say
And how you spent your dash?*

“ You are all in our Thoughts and Prayers. Mrs. Rosie was a special person who always had a big smile on her face. There was no doubt how she loved the Lord and her family- she was so proud of all you. Now, we have another Special Angel named Rosie. Rest In Peace and know that we WILL see her again, and the next time we see her it WILL BE FOREVER MORE.
