“ Individual apple pies -- Aunt Pearl always made each of us a special individual apple pie when we would visit. These were wonderful. Wonderful also was the rope swing at the farm - hung from the huge black walnut trees in the front yard. Love you Wanda, Ellen, and Ann. Missing Aunt Pearl and her favorite comeback when someone upset her "they're full of pee".

“ Stella Pearl Layne was liked by everyone that had the pleasure of meeting her. She made dresses and food that would melt in your mouth. Family meant everything to her, and if anyone ever broke her granddaughter's heart, she remembered their name - long after the granddaughter had forgotten. You could go to her house, vowing to stay on your diet, but once the smell of fried chicken and hot rolls hit you at the front door, you had no will power. When she greeted her husband at the door either at lunchtime, or dinner time, he would take off his hat and she kissed him right on the lips. Many a time he had an armful of roses for any special occasion he could think of. He remembered dates and every important date to him deserved at least half a dozen roses. Those who knew her will have a void in their heart now that she has left the earth, but her 93 year old body is resting, and her health has been restored. We love you Nan, and we will be with you one of these days. Hope you come to meet me when my time comes. Much love to you and may you rest peacefully.
