“ My aunt, Sue, was only 5 years older than I am. She already had one special niece when I was born, so she was an expert aunt. When we were little she always took the time to play with us, and in my early teen years she loved me much like a best friend -- once she took me to Cooper High School with her to attend classes and meet her friends. Sue taught me how to find stations and listen to the am radio quietly in her room at night. And we talked about boys and our dreams. She was the first I knew to enjoy glow-in-the-dark stars and planets on her bedroom ceiling. She loved the outdoors and colors and flowers and horses. A favorite activity was swinging as high as possible on any swing she could spot. She gave me my first cookbook and tried to convince me to learn to like cooking. I am thankful for the sweet memories.
