“ Bill Carpenter was a great friend. A few years back, when he and Daphna lived on Beaver Lake, my wife and I had a small place next door. Every weekend, Bill and I would go out fishing at the crack of dawn, usually trolling with lures in his small boat. We caught everything from crappie to bass to catfish ... and, on one memorable occasion, a 50-pound paddlefish. The only thing that would slow us down would be if he spotted an abandoned bucket in the shallows that he'd have to retrieve. Even though we caught a lot of fish over the years, I'm not so sure that the fishing wasn't just an excuse to feast on Daphna's egg sandwiches and chitchat about everything under the sun. We may not have solved any of the world's problems, but we certainly didn't add to them. I'll miss him. He was quite a guy.

Our sympathy and prayers for the family from Jo Ann Kyle and family. Clyde always enjoyed "goat ropers class" as they called it, with Bill. Bill was a good friend to Clyde. Maybe they can swap tall tales in the hereafter now.

Jay, Bubba, Scott & Dean. I have a great deal of respect for your father -- he treated me and my family so kindly -- I have very fond memories if him (at a baseball field, of course). He'll be missed.
